List Of Effective Pages

When this document is revised, it will be revised in its entirety. The latest revision will be shown at the top of this document on each page. A vertical bar in the left-hand margin will indicate a revision to the prior released version.

Amendment Procedure

Revisions to this Supplement shall be originated and distributed by the Quality Manager or his delegate as approved by the Accountable Manager. Revisions to this Supplement shall be approved by the DGCA prior to being released. Any changes to the Duncan Aviation Repair Station General Operating Manual (RSGOM) that affect India products shall be put into this Supplement.

Hard copies of the revisions shall be sent to the DGCA at the following address for approval:
The Director General of Civil Aviation (DGCA)
Technical Centre,
Opposite Safdarjung Airport,
New Delhi - 110003, India

KIND ATTN: Mr. S. Dutta, Director of Airworthiness
Email: daw@dgca.nic.in

Once the Supplement has been approved by the DGCA, it will be released in the Duncan Document Database (D3).

Introduction

Duncan Aviation was established in 1956 by Donald Duncan. It is currently based in Lincoln, Nebraska, USA with two other full-service locations located in Battle Creek, MI and Provo, UT, more than 25 satellite avionics and nine Rapid Response launch offices in the U.S. with approximately 2,200 employees (worldwide).

- The Lincoln, NE facility was established in 1963 at Lincoln Airport. Below are some of the ratings that the Lincoln facility currently maintains:
- Radio - Class 1, 2 & 3.
- Instrument - Class 1, 2, 3 & 4.
- Accessory - Class 1, 2 & 3.
- Powerplant - Limited ratings including TFE731 Engine Heavy/Line capabilities
- Airframe - Class 1, 3 & 4.
- NDT (Ultrasonic, Dye Penetrant, Eddy Current, Magnetic Particle).
- Cessna and Falcon NDT Approved.
- Life vest inspection.
- Learjet (Aeronca) thrust reversers.
- FAA-approved paint process.
- STC, Major Repair and Alterations (MRA) and Parts Manufacturing Approval (PMA) Organization Designated Authorization (ODA).
- PMA PQ3429CE.

Duncan Aviation holds several International Repair Station certifications. Below is a list of those authorizations:

This Supplement in conjunction with the Duncan Aviation RSGOM defines the organization and procedures upon which the India DGCA approval has been granted.

It is accepted that the AMO's procedures do not override the necessity of complying with any additional requirements of the India DGCA that are notified to this organization from time to time.

It is understood that the certificate will be valid while the DGCA is satisfied that the procedures are being followed and work standards maintained. It is further understood that the DGCA reserves the right to revoke the certificate if it considers the procedures are not followed or standards not upheld.

The Duncan Aviation Safety policy can be found in internal process SAF-0600 located in the Duncan Document Database (D3).

The Quality policy is located in the RSGOM, Quality Control Manual page QC-01-01.

PART 1: MANAGEMENT

1.1 Corporate Commitment by the Accountable Manager

This Supplement and the Duncan Aviation Repair Station General Operating Manual (RSGOM) define the organization and procedures to meet the conditions as required by Rule 133BA of the Aircraft Rules, 1937 and to comply with the requirements of CAR Section 2 Series E Part XI as amended. These procedures are approved by the undersigned and must be complied with, as applicable, when work orders are being progressed by Duncan Aviation under the terms of the DGCA approval.

It is accepted that these procedures do not override the necessity of complying with any new or amended regulation published by DGCA from time to time where these new or amended regulations are in conflict with these procedures.

It is understood that DGCA shall approve this organization as long as DGCA is satisfied that the procedures are being followed and work standards maintained. It is further understood that DGCA reserves the right to suspend, limit or revoke the approval of the organization if DGCA has evidence that the procedures are not followed or standards not upheld.

Accountable Manager
Duncan Aviation, Lincoln, Nebraska

1.10 Notification Procedure to DGCA Regarding Changes.

Duncan Aviation will notify the DGCA with regards to any changes in the organization’s activities, location or key management personnel. Any changes will be submitted to the Chief Inspector, International Airworthiness (or Delegate). It will then be reported to the DGCA in writing:

- Name of Organization
- Main Location
- Additional locations
- The Accountable Manger, Base Maintenance Manager and Quality Manager
- Facilities, equipment, tools, material, work scope, and certifying staff that could affect the approval.

1.11 Exposition Amendment Procedures.

This Supplement will be amended, as necessary, by the Quality Manager, or their delegate with concurrence of the Accountable Manager. The amended Supplement will then be forwarded to the DGCA for their approval.

PART 2: MAINTENANCE PROCEDURES

2.1 Supplier Evaluation and Subcontract Control Procedures.

Duncan Aviation accomplishes supplier evaluation and subcontract control in accordance with company procedure GIP-0208, Vendor Approval/Maintenance Process. The list of approved Vendors/Subcontractors is maintained by the Quality department. All Vendors and Subcontractors are assigned a vendor code which identifies the type of function they are approved to perform for Duncan Aviation. Vendor audit frequency is also noted in company procedure GIP-0208.

2.2 Acceptance/Inspection of Components and Materials from Outside Vendors.

Duncan Aviation utilizes a Receiving Inspection process for accepting components and materials from outside vendors and customers. All components and materials, whether acquired from a vendor or customer, must pass through the Materials department and be inspected by a Shipping and Receiving Auditor (SRA). The component/material is checked for proper paperwork and physical condition. If found satisfactory, the item can be issued to the production department requiring it. Rejected items are quarantined and returned to the vendor or customer.

The procedure for qualifying SRA Inspectors is located in the Duncan Aviation Policy and Procedures Manual; page PP-29-01, “SRA Stamps”, located in the RSGOM.

The Duncan Aviation procedure for accepting and inspecting items obtained from an outside contractor is found in company procedure REC-0010, Receiving Audits.

2.3 Storage, Tagging and Release of Aircraft Components and Materials to Maintenance Shops.

All parts/components/materials enter into the facility through the Materials Department and go through acceptance via a shipping and receiving audit. Items that are not ready to be issued to the maintenance production departments are stored in appropriate climate controlled areas. Duncan Aviation identification tags are affixed to each item or bulk items. These tags are bar coded and aid in not only identifying the item but also locating it in the materials electronic system and issuing it to maintenance.

When a part is needed by production, it is ordered through the electronic work order system. Parts that are unserviceable due to damage or beyond life limits are tagged unserviceable and returned to the Materials Department for quarantine until such time they are physically disabled and disposed of. The use of Duncan Aviation Tags is located in the Policy and Procedures Manual, page PP-25-01, “Tags/Stickers used by the Repair Station”, contained in the Duncan Aviation RSGOM.

2.4 Acceptance of Tools and Equipment.

Duncan Aviation ensures that all required manufacturer tooling and/or equipment is available to technicians. All company owned tools and equipment are individually identified by permanent means and entered into the Tool Room electronic tracking system. Tools are issued and signed out to the work order of the aircraft it is being used on, as well as to the individual technician that is using it. Alternate tools will only be utilized that have been produced under the Duncan Aviation procedure GIP-0901, Selection of Equivalent Tooling and Equipment.

2.5 Calibration of Tools and Equipment.

All company owned tools are tracked in the tool room electronic tracking system. All Duncan Aviation maintenance personnel tools, that require calibration, are also tracked in the electronic tracking system. The beginning of each month, a tracking report is run and all tools due calibration by the end of that month are flagged. Tool room personnel removed Duncan owned tools and send out for calibration. Maintenance personnel that have tools due calibration, are informed via email as well as through their supervisor.

Calibrated tools that are beyond their calibration date, or are out of tolerance and cannot be repaired, are to be removed from the facility. The procedures for calibration of tools and equipment are found in the Quality Control Manual, page QC-08-01, “Control and Calibration of Precision Tools and Test Equipment”, located in the RSGOM.

2.6 Use of Tooling and Equipment by Staff (Including Alternate Tools).

Manufacturer tooling is stored in and monitored by the Tool Room. Needed tools and equipment are signed out from the Tool Room to the aircraft, and returned at the end of its use in accordance with GSE-0010 Tool Crib Check In/Check Out Procedure. Tool Room personnel, and production technicians alike, are all responsible for ensuring the items issued are in working order, properly calibrated (if required) and there are no obvious defects that would affect the function of the item. The tool or equipment is inspected prior to issuing out, and re-inspected when it is returned. Any defects noted will result in placing the item out of service until it is repaired, re-calibrated and found to again be serviceable.

Any tools or equipment requiring special training is reported to the Training Department. The specialized training course is then developed and implemented. Completed training is recorded in the individual technician's training records as described in the RSGOM Training Manual.

2.7 Cleanliness Standards of Maintenance Facilities.

The Duncan Aviation Facilities Department is responsible for the overall maintenance and cleanliness of all facilities. Disposal of waste material is also the responsibility of the Facilities Department. Any handling of hazardous materials (HAZMAT) is performed by personnel that have been through the appropriate HAZMAT material handling training course(s) within the Duncan Aviation FAA approved Training Program. All Duncan Aviation personnel are responsible for preventing Foreign Object Damage (FOD) to aircraft and/or equipment.

2.8 Maintenance, Instructions and Relationship to Aircraft/Aircraft Component Manufacturer's Instructions Including Updating and Availability to Personnel.

The procedures for all technical data, control and update, revisions, uncontrolled copies, customer provided data, availability to maintenance personnel is found in the Quality Control Manual, page QC-06-01, "Technical Data", located in the Duncan Aviation RSGOM.

2.9 Repair Procedure.

Repairs shall be accomplished in accordance with the appropriate manufacturer repair manual or other manufacturer approved data. In the event that repairs cannot be accomplished using the appropriate manufacturer data, the data to be used must have prior approval from the DGCA.

2.10 Aircraft Maintenance Program Compliance.

Duncan Aviation shall ensure that it complies with all aspects of an Operator's AMP. All required training on the Operator's Maintenance Program shall be coordinated prior to any work being performed. Duncan Aviation does not develop or maintain any aircraft maintenance programs.

2.11 Airworthiness Directives.

When part of the contracted work scope, a requirement of an inspection program or at the Operator's request, Duncan Aviation shall research and accomplish all applicable DGCA and State of Design Airworthiness Directives (AD). Research shall be accomplished through the internet or through subscription service. When researched, if an Airworthiness Directive is found to be applicable and due, the Operator is informed and the AD is entered into the work order system. Accomplishment of the AD and its future applicability status will be clearly indicated in the aircraft records. Duncan Aviation shall not knowingly give an India registered aircraft a return to service that has an outstanding applicable Airworthiness Directive(s).

2.12 Optional Modification Procedure.

Any significant (major) modifications to aircraft will only be accomplished in accordance with DGCA, AAC 2 of 2013 "Modification and Repair" and their approved CAME.

2.13 Maintenance Documentation In Use and Completion of Same.

The Duncan Aviation process for maintenance documentation in use and its completion is found in the Policy and Procedures manual, page PP-28-01, "Work Order, General", located in the RSGOM.

2.14 Technical Record Control.

Customer aircraft records are inventoried and checked in to the control of the Quality department. All aircraft records are kept in storage cabinets that are constantly locked. Access to aircraft records is only through the Quality department. Any aircraft records needing to be accessed must be signed out and then returned by the end of the day. Duncan Aviation utilizes an electronic work order system for record keeping purposes. All aircraft return to service and work order records are kept in this system. Further guidance is located in the Duncan Aviation Repair Station Manual, page RS-11-01, "Required Records", and page RS-13-01, "Electronic Recordkeeping System".

2.15 Rectification of Defects Arising During Base Maintenance.

The rectification of defects during base maintenance is set forth in the Duncan Aviation Quality Control Manual; page QC-09-01, "Corrective Actions", located in the RSGOM.

2.16 Release to Service Procedure.

An aircraft that has satisfactorily completed the scheduled/unscheduled maintenance work in accordance with applicable maintenance data, a Certificate of Release to Service (CRS) in respect of the aircraft shall be issued by appropriately qualified personnel (Certifying Staff). When extensive maintenance is carried out on the aircraft, single CRS may be issued with a unique cross reference to the work package containing full details of maintenance carried out. The CRS can be found in the D3.

An aircraft component, which has been maintained while off the aircraft, shall require the issuance of a CA Form 1 Certificate of Release to Service for such maintenance. On installation of the component on an aircraft, a Certificate of Release to Service in respect of the aircraft shall be required certifying its proper installation. A certificate of Release to Service is necessary before flight, at the completion of any defect rectification, while the aircraft operates flight services between schedule maintenance.

Additionally, the DGCA approval certificate number shall be stated on the aircraft CRS. The CRS shall also contain the following statement required by CAR AMC 145.A.50(b):

"Certifies that the work specified, except as otherwise specified, was carried out in accordance with CAR 145 and in respect to that work the aircraft/aircraft component is considered ready for release to service."

2.17 Records of DGCA Approved Operator (Customer).

Records of DGCA approved operators will be safe guarded by Duncan Aviation at the time the aircraft arrives. These records will be inventoried and checked into the Records Department and secured during the extent of the aircraft's visit. If records are required to be removed, they will be checked out from the Records Department and checked back in when returned. When the aircraft departs, the records will again be inventoried against the arrival inventory checklist. The records will then be signed out for aircraft departure. Reference Duncan Aviation internal process TRK- 0001.

2.18 Reporting of Defects to DGCA Approved Operator/Manufacturer.

In the event that a major defect is noted, the Quality Manager shall notify the DGCA within 72 hours of discovering the defect. Each report should contain at least the following information per the guidelines found in CAR-145; GM 145.A.60(c):

- (i) Organization name and approval reference.
- (ii) Information necessary to identify the subject aircraft and / or component.
- (iii) Date and time relative to any life or overhaul limitation in terms of flying hours/cycles/landings etc. as appropriate.
- (iv) Details of the condition as required by 145.A.60 (b).
- (v) Any other relevant information found during the evaluation or rectification of the condition.

2.19 Return of Defective Components to Store.

Duncan Aviation procedure for the return of defective aircraft store is found in the Policy and Procedures Manual, page PP-14-01, "Identification and Disposition of Rejected Aircraft Parts", located in the RSGOM.

2.20 Defective Components to Outside Contractors.

Duncan Aviation procedure for sending defective components to outside contractors is found in company procedure document SHP-0030, "Packaging Orders to be Shipped". The subject is also covered in the Policy and Procedures Manual, page PP-15-01, "Handling, Preservation, Packaging and Delivery of Components, Parts and Materials".

2.21 Control of Computer Maintenance Record Systems.

The control of the electronic maintenance records system is set forth in the Duncan Aviation Repair Station Manual, page RS-12-01, "Computer System Description" and page RS-13-01, "Electronic Recordkeeping System", located in the RSGOM.

2.22 Control of Man Hour Planning Versus Scheduled Maintenance Work.

The control of man-hour planning versus scheduled maintenance is detailed in Scheduling Best Practices BP0004 thru BP0009.

2.23 Control of Critical Tasks

Duncan Aviation Quality system is responsible for the control of critical tasks. Critical tasks are designated as any maintenance task item that could adversely affect safety of flight if a failure occurred. These items are in addition to the designated RII items found in the Duncan Aviation Policy and Procedure Manual; page PP-10-01, "Required Inspection Items", located in the RSGOM. RII items are considered independent inspections and shall be carried out by two appropriately trained QI Inspectors, one of which must be RII rated.

2.24 Reference to Specific Maintenance Procedures.

Duncan Aviation outlines aircraft engine run and taxiing procedures in company procedure document DGP-7100, "Aircraft Engine Run and Taxi Program".

Aircraft towing procedures are located in company procedure document DGP-0090, "Towing Aircraft and Hangar Stacking".

2.25 Procedures to Detect And Rectify Maintenance Errors.

All maintenance performed is inspected by a Qualified Inspector (QI) and indicated in the work order by the Inspector signing off the work with their inspector stamp number (accomplished electronically). Any errors found in the maintenance performed are brought to the attention of the technician who performed the work or their supervisor. The deficient work may also be flagged in the electronic work order system with a note written describing the error and what needs to be done. The work must be corrected before the item can be signed off in the work order by the Inspector.

2.26 Shift/Task Handover Procedures.

The shift/task handover procedure is found in the Duncan Aviation Policy and Procedure manual, page PP-04-01, "Continuity of Inspection and Maintenance Responsibility", located in the RSGOM.

2.27 Procedures for Notification of Maintenance Data Inconsistencies to the Type Certificate Holder.

When inconsistencies or errors are noted within original equipment manufacturer (OEM) or type certificate holder data, a Duncan Aviation technical representative will make every attempt to report these deficiencies and request clarification or correct instructions to continue work as necessary. Duncan Aviation does not currently have a specific formal process to accomplish this reporting.

2.28 Production Planning Procedure.

The maintenance production and planning will be accomplished in accordance the BP0004 through BP0009. A planning meeting will be held with all parties involved for the maintenance event prior to input of the India registered aircraft.

PART L2: ADDITIONAL LINE MAINTENANCE PROCEDURE (Not Applicable)

NOT APPLICABLE

PART 3: QUALITY SYSTEM PROCEDURES

3.1 Quality Audit of Organization Procedures.

The schedule for all audit activity is developed and maintained by the Audit Programs Manager, and may be altered as long as all required audits are completed annually. The internal audit schedule is based on a risk analysis performed annually by the Audit Department, with input from department managers and the Audit Review Committee. An audit report will be generated at the conclusion of each compliance audit, and will be presented to the Manager and Vice President of the applicable department. This report will contain any findings or concerns discovered during the audit. Procedures for completing the risk analysis and developing the audit schedule are contained in procedure GIP-0020.

3.2 Quality Audit of Aircraft.

Sampling quality audits of aircraft and/or components are conducted by Qualified Inspectors with RII authority. Items requiring RII inspection have already been inspected by a Qualified Inspector and signed off. The RII Inspection is a third visual inspection of the work performed, and the associated recording of that work in the work order system, thus, it is considered a sampling quality audit. The description for the audit system is in the Policy and Procedures manual, page PP-19-01, "Audits", located in the Duncan Aviation RSGOM.

3.3 Quality Audit Remedial Action Procedure.

GIP-0020 Audit Procedure, Internal will be used for each finding identified during quality audits. Verification will be completed by the assigned auditor or designee to ensure effective implementation of the corrective/preventive action. If a follow-up reveals an ineffective corrective/preventive action, a new Event Report will be issued referencing the original Event Report.

3.4 Certifying Staff Qualification and Training Procedures.

Duncan Aviation Certifying staff personnel are certificated by the Federal Aviation Administration in accordance with FAR Part 65. Model specific aircraft training is accomplished through factory approved training schools that meet the requirements of FAR Part 147. Duncan Aviation Certifying Staff hold Qualified Inspector (QI) authority. The qualifying and training of Qualified Inspectors is found in the Quality Control Manual, page QC-05-01, "Inspection personnel" and QC-05-02, "Inspection Authorities Table". All required training and recurrent training is accomplished by the Duncan Aviation Training department. Further qualification standards are outlined in Duncan Aviation procedure GIP-0110, "Quality Inspector Accountability Process".

Training record files are kept with the Professional Development Training department and a copy of training records are kept with the employment summaries of each individual.

3.5 Certifying Staff Records.

Duncan Aviation Certifying staff personnel are certificated by the Federal Aviation Administration in accordance with FAR Part 65 utilizing Part 147 training. Model specific aircraft training is accomplished through factory approved training schools. Duncan Aviation Certifying Staff hold Qualified Inspector (QI) authority. The qualifying and training of Qualified Inspectors is found in the Quality Control Manual, page QC-05-01, "Inspection personnel" and QC-05-02, "Inspection Authorities Table". All required training and recurrent training is accomplished by the Duncan Aviation Training department. Further qualification standards are outlined in Duncan Aviation procedure GIP-0110, "Quality Inspector Accountability Process".

3.6 Quality Audit Personnel.

The Duncan Aviation Audit department is an independent department within the company. The Audit department Manager and auditors are not connected to any other department, thus allowing full autonomy when performing internal department audits. The Audit department personnel are selected and qualified with respect to the specific position qualifications as outlined in the Job Description.

3.7 Qualifying Inspectors.

Duncan Aviation utilizes experienced personnel as Qualified Inspectors for its Quality System. The process for qualifying and designating these Inspectors is found in company procedure GIP-0110, Quality Inspector Accountability. Further details are also found in the Quality Control Manual, page QC-05-01, "Inspection Personnel", located in the RSGOM.

3.8 Qualifying Mechanics

Duncan Aviation hires maintenance technicians that are certificated under the Federal Aviation Regulations (FAR) Part 65. All technicians are under the training requirements as set forth in the Duncan Aviation Training Program approved by the Federal Aviation Administration. Technicians are continually assessed in their performance, qualifications and training by their supervisory and management personnel.

3.9 Aircraft or Component Maintenance Tasks Exemption Process Control.

- A. Any deviation from an aircraft maintenance program or specified maintenance task in the period/frequency at which it is scheduled to be accomplished constitutes a maintenance task exemption.
- B. Under these circumstances, permission may be sought by the operator for defining the maintenance task for a specified number of hours or number of days.
- C. For any requirement which Duncan Aviation cannot meet, exemption shall be sought from the DGCA.

3.10 Concession Control for Deviation from Organization's Procedures.

Duncan Aviation procedures that are in place shall not be generally deviated from. Any requests for deviations from a company procedure are handled on a case by case basis with prior approval of the DGCA.

3.11 Qualification Procedure for Specialized Activities Such as NDT, Welding, Etc.

Duncan Aviation Non-Destructive Testing (NDT) personnel are qualified to the National Aerospace Standard NAS 410, Current Revision. The procedure for certification is found in the Policy and Procedures manual, page PP-16-01, "Non-Destructive Testing", located in the RSGOM.

3.12 Control of Manufacturer's and Other Maintenance Working Teams.

The Duncan Aviation procedure for control of manufacturer and other maintenance working teams is located in the Policy and Procedures manual, page PP-11-01, "Subcontracted Services (Personnel)", located in the RSGOM.

3.13 Human Factors Training Procedures.

Human Factors training and recurrent training is accomplished under the FAA approved, Duncan Aviation Training Program located in the Training Manual in the RSGOM and the EASA Appendix of the RSGOM. Human Factors training is repeated every two years. The Human Factors training course is continually updated to present new and continually applicable guidance to reflect any new challenges facing aviation personnel.

3.14 Competence Assessment of Personnel.

3.15 Training Procedures for On-The-Job Training per Section 6 of Appendix-III to CAR 66.

3.16 Procedure for the issue of the recommendation to DGCA for the issues of a CAR 66 license in accordance with 66.B.105.
